Te Pou-o-Mangataawhiri Kapa Haka.
New Zealand's oldest performing travelling haka troupe was established by esteemed and venerated leader Te Puea Herangi in 1921. Hailing from Tūrangawaewae Marae in Ngāruawāhia, Te Pou-o-Mangataawhiri, more affectionately known as TPM has its roots firmly planted within the Kīngitanga movement. TPM is a consistent feature amongst the top kapa haka echelon at national and regional premiere kapa haka competitions and has a wealth of international exposure. Te Pou-o-Mangataawhiri Kapa Haka is guided by the words of Te Puea Herangi – To uplift all people, to conduct themselves with righteousness and uphold peace. Paimārire.

Tutored under its current leadership, Te Kapa Haka o Ngāti Whakaue has only been together for eight years. However, it has a long and distinguished history that stretches all the way back to 1932. Ngāti Whakaue is a tribe that originates from Rotorua which is known as the tourism capital of New Zealand. When immigrants started arriving to our shores in the late 17th century our ancestors capitalised on the sudden and explosive interest the world had on our culture. This is when they created concert groups that would sing and chant our tribal songs to tourists.

Te Kapa Haka o Taiporutu was formed during this time which is the inception of our group. Over the 92 years of its existence the group has changed names and leadership, however, its purpose has always remained the same and that is to share their tribal stories and unite their people.

Te Kapa Haka o Ngāti Whakaue are one of the top kapa in the country having placed second at the prestigious 2023 Te Matatini Kapa Haka Competition, and have just come off the back of the Te Arawa Regional Kapa Haka competition where they placed first.
